the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased in the United Kingdom (Meltzer 1996). The prevalence of schizophrenia is estimated to be 1% of the population (Meltzer 1996).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a vision of a new mental health system, which will be based on the principles of recovery, partnership, and choice. the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased in the United Kingdom (Meltzer 1996). The prevalence of schizophrenia in the United Kingdom is estimated to be 1.2% (Meltzer 1996).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a vision for the future of mental health care in the United Kingdom. The vision is that people with mental health problems should be able to live full and meaningful lives, and that they should be able to participate in the community. The vision is based on the principles of recovery, empowerment, and partnership.

Recovery is the process of living a meaningful life, despite the presence of a mental health problem. It is a process that is unique to each individual, and it is a process that can be supported by a range of services. Empowerment is the process of giving people the power to make decisions about their own lives. Partnership is the process of working together to achieve common goals.

The Department of Health (1999) has set out a number of key objectives for the future of mental health care in the United Kingdom. These objectives are: to improve the lives of people with mental health problems; to reduce the stigma and discrimination associated with mental health problems; to increase the participation of people with mental health problems in the community; and to improve the effectiveness of mental health services.

One of the key challenges facing mental health services is how to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. This challenge is being addressed by a range of initiatives, including the development of new services, the improvement of existing services, and the promotion of recovery. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a number of key initiatives for the future of mental health care in the United Kingdom. These initiatives are: to develop new services; to improve existing services; and to promote recovery.

The Department of Health (1999) has also set out a number of key principles for the future of mental health care in the United Kingdom. These principles are: recovery, empowerment, and partnership. Coping
With Change

KOUGAR PRIDE 1975

Kankakee Valley
High School
Wheatfield, Indiana

Volume # 5

Girl's sports drew more interest this year. One reason was winning teams. Many were surprised by the crowd of enthusiastic spectators drawn to the volleyball sectional.

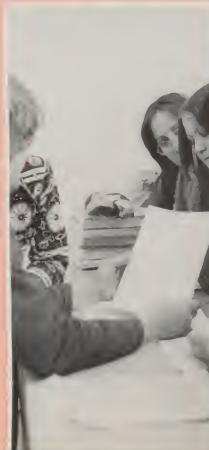

As more families built homes in the school district, our students felt the squeeze in school. They shared lockers, stood in longer lunch lines and tolerated crowded classrooms.

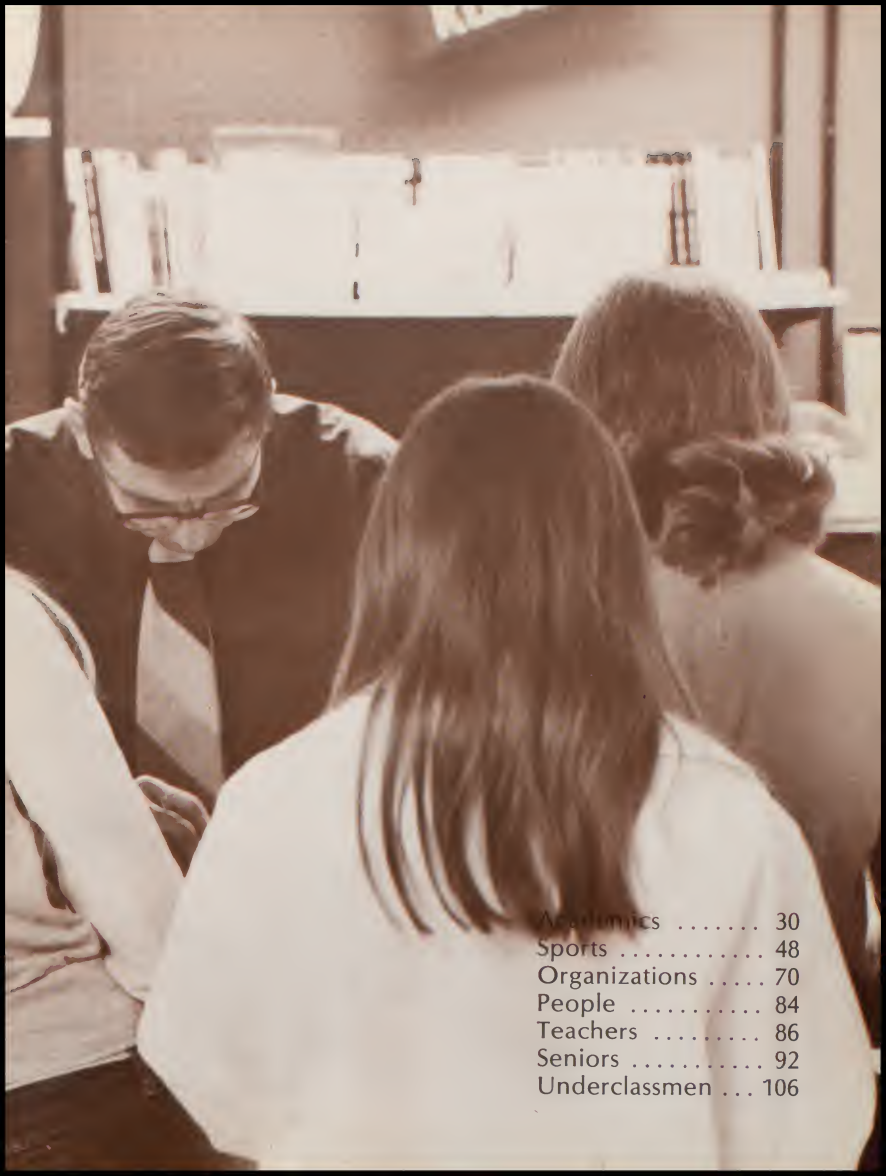

The nation changed too. It seemed that it had to cope with changes in order for it to survive. Inflation caused the cost of living to jump 12% by December 1. Prices skyrocketed.

All this and more meant that KV students coped with many changes in the 1974-75 school year.

Tested as never before, students learned to cope with change. A whole new curriculum awaited the students this fall. Over a year and a half of preparation by Mr. Ryska and the teachers, helped to make a total quarter system of scheduling a reality.

The "quarter system" had many compliments as well as some criticisms from students. Many students were happy to have had a greater stockpile of courses from which they could choose. They were now able to broaden knowledge in their area of interest. Those who weren't sure of what field they were going to enter, had the opportunity to sample many different areas. There were some Seniors who were dissatisfied with the system because of high priority given to underclassmen in scheduling them into normally "senior-only" classes.

Building Boom Hits KV District

Another problem students coped with is the growth of the school and the surrounding area. Such inconveniences as overcrowded buses and long waiting lines in the cafeteria became difficulties which students had to deal with everyday.

In September, South Lake Shopping Mall opened within half an hours drive from our school. This, the largest mall in Indiana, changed some student shopping habits and caused local merchants to brace for the change.

The more widely known chain stores, such as Hooks and Ben Franklin, replaced some of the small privately owned businesses in our own towns.

Over fifty new homes built in the Summer, due partly to the construction of the NIPSCO plant, caused housing complexes to pop up all over the school district.

"You've Come
a Long Way Baby"

Girls invaded the gym demanding their place in school sports. Coaches shifted practices to accommodate them. The guys got used to their usual hard practices being mimicked on the other side of the gym by their female counterparts.

Added to competitive offerings were volleyball, basketball, track and intramurals, giving over 40 girls a chance to participate in varsity, junior varsity, freshmen, and intramural teams.

Feminine athletic events now contain many facets equaling those of the high school athletics for guys. Coaching strategy, game plans, getting in shape, lifting weights, and yes, even the thrill of victory and the agony—of defeat are now an intricate part of the girls' game.

Students Become Aware and Work for Change

Not unlike other Americans, students at KV became more involved in the country's economic and political despair. Disgruntled students also displayed their opposition toward long-standing school policies. Petitions were carried supporting released time for Seniors. Students' thoughts concerning curriculum were voiced forcefully at Tuesday night board meetings.

This fall, elections became a prevalent topic of conversation. Our school's room 128 became a polling place. However, concern turned into apathy once the actual voting began.

Economy Dictates Leisure Time Plans

Students had to alter their leisure time plans somewhat this past year. Because of the "tight" economic situation and the fact that part time jobs were not readily available, students were limited to the type of activity they could enjoy. Shopping trips and going to the movies became infrequent privileges. Instead, the student took to the easily accessible hobbies depicted on these pages including the #1 pastime shown on the opposite page.

New Quarter System Adds Variety to Old Curriculum

Girls throwing horseshoes? Guys doing the cooking? No, it's not Women's Lib — these are just a couple of the new ideas involved in the quarter system. And, to the surprise of the privileged few that tasted the end results, many of the guys — yes, even a few football stars — turned out to be master chefs.

There were many unusual and interesting courses offered in the new program: American Humor, Logic and Communication, Personality, Macrame, Photography, Ceramics, Family Relations, and Contemporary Music, to name a few.

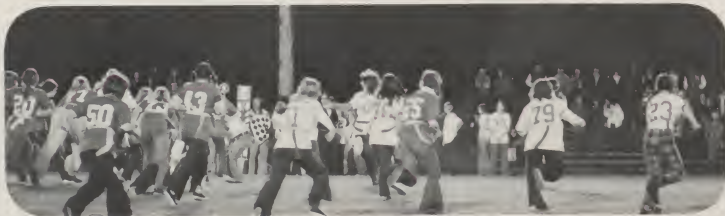

The longest first football game of the season was during the annual homecoming game. After a series of "Spirit Week" games, the homecoming game was held on Friday, Oct. 10. The game was held at the homecoming game. The game was held at the homecoming game. The game was held at the homecoming game.

Council Presents Something for Everyone

Student Council provided KV students with a number of interesting convocations. The presentations were varied to contain something interesting for a broad range of individuals.

For the science-minded, there was a program centered around atomic energy and its practical uses. For the artists, there was "Chalk Talk". An artist captivated the audience as he drew landscapes and portraits while telling a story about each. For history buffs, two actors presented the student body with a variety of skits of unfamiliar events. These portrayals included a "how it might have been" skit of Ralph Waldo Emerson during his existence at Walden's Pond. For KV musicians, guitarist Chris Cozzuli demonstrated the use of various types of guitars. He also told of the origin of each type and gave the students some background of each.

These and many other presentations offered a variety much appreciated by the student body.

Audience Exits in Tears

After watching the emotion packed presentation "I Never Saw Another Butterfly," the audience was in tears. "This drama required the high school student to explore emotions and situations with which he hadn't any experience," stated faculty advisor Carole Womelsdorff, "It was a challenge for us to draw from the experiences we had, stretching them to achieve the proper dramatic pitch."

The play vividly portrayed the horror of the Jewish plight in Prague during World War II. In the concentration camp, Terezin, the exasperation of the Jewish children held there was very touching, emotionally. The events were reported through narration or dramatization by the 15 members of the student cast as follows:

SPRING PLAY

"Bad Children" and "King of the Ice Cream Mountain"

Two children's plays were presented this spring by nine cast members and director Carole Womelsdorff. The first play, "Bad Children", was a somewhat revised story of "Hansel and Gretel". The story included a modern witch and parents who didn't want their lost children, Hansel and Gretel, back home. The second performance, "King of the Ice Cream Mountain", involved a hidden ice cream mine.

The two one-act plays lasted approximately one and one-half hours and were enjoyed by all who attended. The main purpose of putting on children's plays was to provide entertainment for the youngsters, as it isn't easily found in this area.

The cast consisted of:

Paul Duttlinger . .	Enchanter and Zeno
Derek Bahnert . .	Hansel and Muffles
Cathy De Graff . .	Princess Happy
Kevin Compton . .	King Bumpy Gruff
Denise De Graff . .	The Witch
Luann Jonkman . .	Gretel

Successful Sports Season Increases Interest in Awards

The Fall and Winter sports banquets were bigger and better than ever. Because of an increased number of participants, more and better awards were presented. The increase also made more food available at the carry-in affairs, much to the delight of the athletes.

Something new was added to the banquets; an air of pride was more than apparent. This addition can be attributed to successful athletic year accomplished at KV. The athletes not only were proud of individual performances but now could be proud of their team accomplishments as well.

"Colour My World"

PROM

On April 26, the juniors presented their version of the '75 banquet and prom. The theme "Colour My World" was more than apparent as Halleck Center at St. Joe in Rensselaer was brilliantly decorated with a collage of colors for the occasion. Large flowers and streamers as well as colorful posters decorated the walls. Brightly colored balloons and confetti spotted the floor and surrounded the small pond that stood in the center of the dance floor.

The evening began with a meal consisting of ham and chicken, baked potatoes, tossed salad, green beans, and strawberry cheesecake. Following the dinner, the couples went up to the dance hall and enjoyed the music of Ziggy Stardust. The band consisted of three of KV's own: music teacher, Mr. Hanks; band director, Mr. Scott; and sophomore Bruce Moolenaar.

A Great Ending

On Sunday, May 18, seniors were graduated. Below sunny skies and temperatures in the 90's, commencement exercises were held on the football field. Each senior, filing past in the maroon and white cap and gown, received a red rose along with the coveted diploma. A red rose for the boys was new this year, since normally only the girls received flowers.

The program proceeded normally with Reverend Hosea Drake opening with the Invocation. Following Laine Cheever's welcoming address, Rev. Drake delivered the Baccalaureate message. Graduating seniors then joined the band to play a Carpenter's medley. The Salutatorian, Kathy Klip, gave a unique monologue about the environment which shaped the lives of her classmates. The Valedictorian, Bob Borns, spoke about the future for the '75 graduates.

Then, much to the delight of the prospective graduates, diplomas were presented by KV School Board President, Bud Belstra.

New Curriculum Changes Academic Scene

Academics changed with the new curriculum initiated by the quarter system. Some teaching methods altered, as there were only 9-weeks in which to cover specific material. Many classes undertook projects, such as radio journalism doing the radio show on WRIN, for regular class requirements. Academic departments broadened and students became well versed at many skills including home design, welding, as well as a number of unusual arts and crafts. The student body accepted the whole new package with enthusiasm and the natural apprehension that comes when embarking on something new.

Classroom situations seemed to be run on more of an informal basis which produced an atmosphere more conducive to learning, in the student's eyes anyway. The quarter system caused a section of the science department to put a restricted type of independent study into use. This change was indicative of some teaching methods, as the faculty experimented to find the procedure most beneficial to the student under the new system. Even the classroom population was different with the lifting of course restrictions to grade levels. It was a familiar sight to see seniors, juniors, and sophomores all entered in the same course.

Bill Tillema, Cathy DeGraff, Randy Popplewell, Sue Holiburg, and Berry Mason discuss a logical premise in logic and communication.

English Department Offers Communication

The English department offered many courses that had to do with communicating. In radio journalism, the students taped a show every week that was broadcast over WRIN on Saturdays from 1:00 to 2:00.

In Logic and Communication the students learned how to make more sense out of their writing. They discussed problems of today and tried to find solutions for them.

Magazine writing also taught a means of communication. The students in this class wrote articles, sent letters to magazines, and put the school newspaper together.

Diversification Hits the P.E. Department

Many courses that the physical education department offered were the type which would give personal benefit to the student during and after high school. Courses such as golf, horseshoes, tennis, archery, weight training, camping, and badmitten were fun and good exercise. They helped the student obtain a better knowledge of each individual sport.

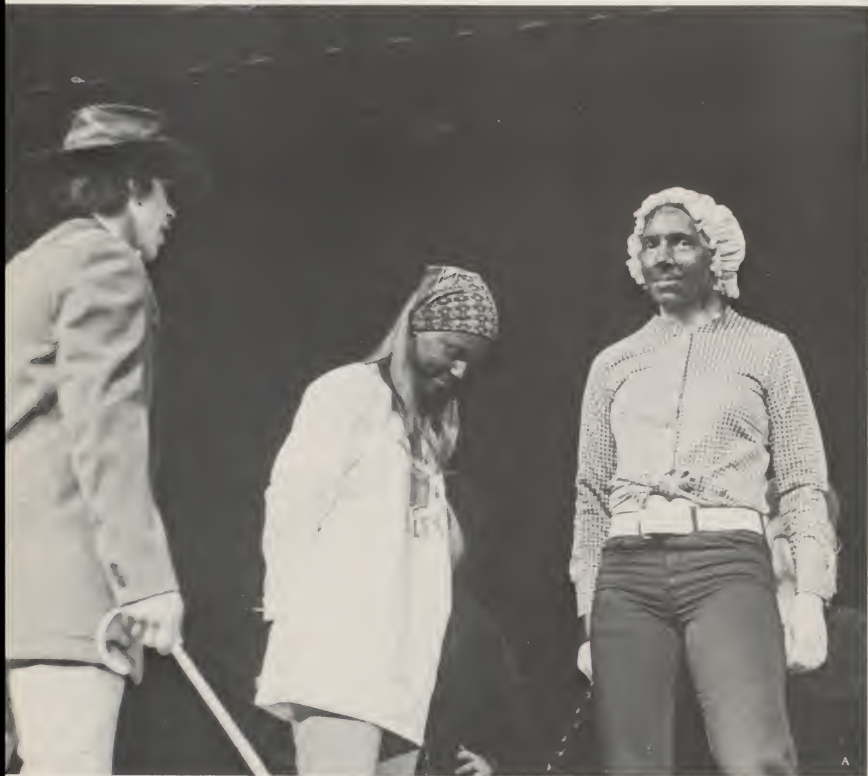

In the Fall, the golf and camping class took a camping trip to Turkey Run. They had cooking crews and had to do other jobs like pitching tents. It rained a good part of the trip, but they kept amused by playing "pinball" and just messing around. They all came back exhausted but excited.

Slave Trade Reenacted in American Studies

Despite the new quarter system, government classes remained static. But they did open up classes to sophomores and juniors for the first time and they added Old Testament and New Testament classes.

American studies always based its grades on points. During the second semester points were lowered for the class and other requirements were added. The slave trade at the end of four weeks was a big highlight for students.

English Department Expands Course Offerings

The English department offered a great variety of new, interesting courses. These were entitled Greek Myth, science fiction, library science, and staging the plays.

In Greek Myth and science fiction students read and evaluated stories. In library science, students learned to make better use of library facilities. Staging the Plays taught students how to set up props.

Innovations Spark the Home Ec Department

Needle craft, food for fellows, family relations and "it's in the box, were some courses offered by the home ec. department.

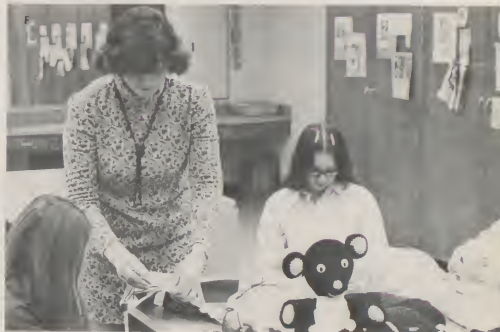

Family relations dealt with feelings of oneself and others. "It's in the box dealt with meals from a package. The students liked these courses as well as learned a lot from them.

Fine Arts Flourishes Under New Program

The fine arts program was broadened this year. Students were given a greater chance to experiment in many areas of interest. There were new and exciting subjects offered such as sculpture, printmaking, architecture, and photography. These classes drew a great amount of interest. Independent art was also offered. In it, students could experiment with various kinds of art in which they had some type of background from previous art courses.

(D.) Tim McClugage wedges clay to work on wheel. (E.) Kathy Klip and John Konovsky make an outside drape vase. (F.) Joyce Blerma hangs up a blueprint in architecture.

Independent Course Offerings Widen Interest in Shop Classes

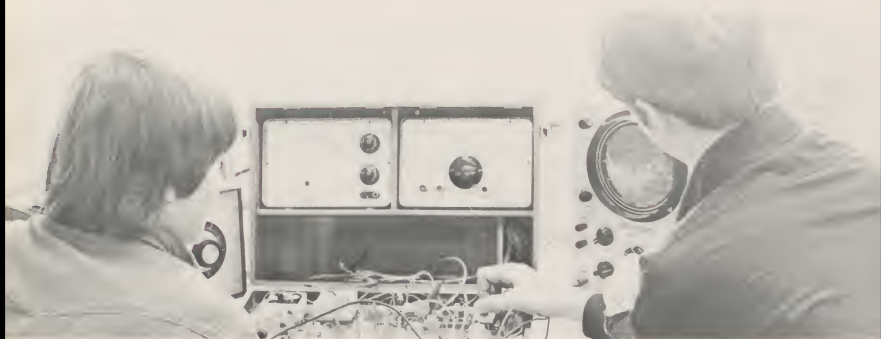

There was a greater selection for the students of K.V. in the field of shop. With the kind of courses offered, the guys could learn all the tricks of the trade and could get a job in that area directly out of high school. Some of these courses were transmission, ignition, foundry and forging, and transistors and vacuum tubes.

In transmission and ignition, the students rebuilt transmissions, pulled parts out of cars and analyzed them.

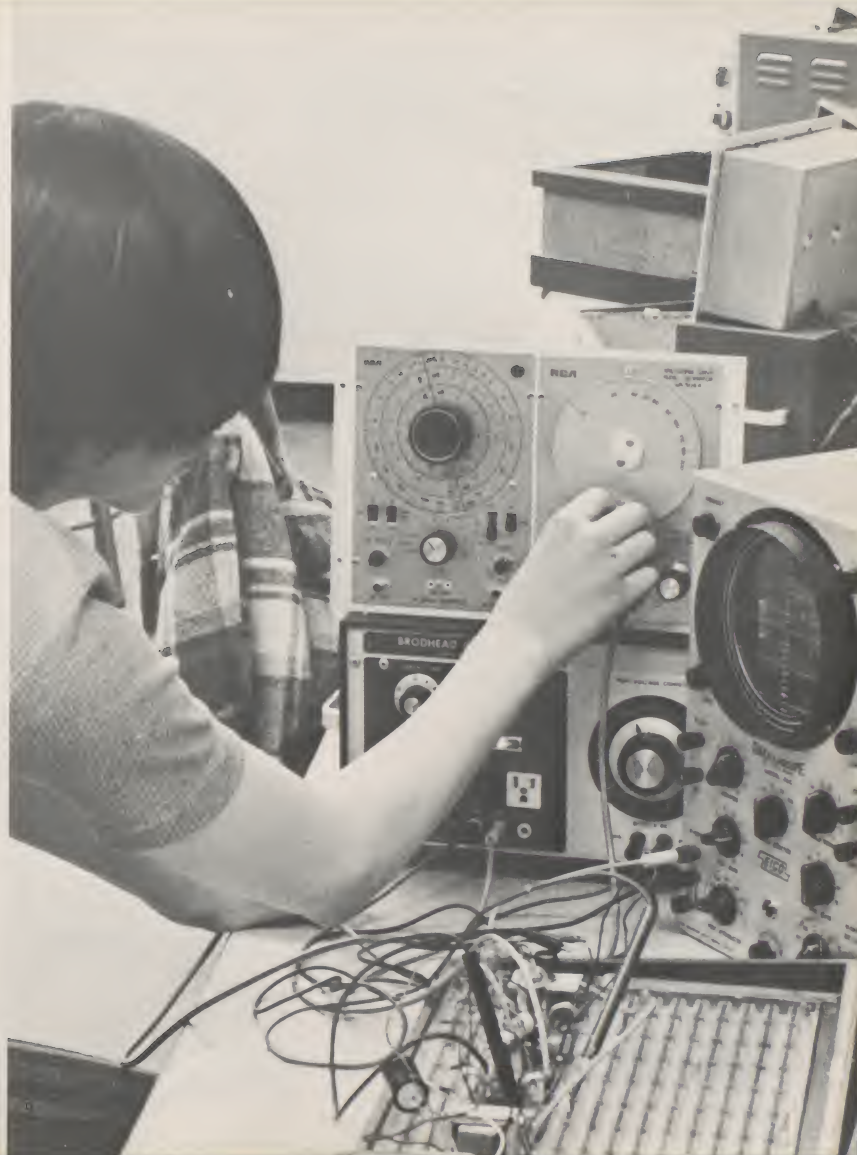

In foundry and forging, the guys made hand tools such as hammers and chisels out of molds.

In transistors and vacuum tubes the students took apart radios and tape players and fixed them. They also built radios.

KV Enjoys Successful Athletic Year

Going hand in hand with nationally rising "women's lib", girls sports increased in popularity. A notable change occurred in athletics in general at KV as Kougars teams enjoyed more than moderate success. Attendance increased as exuberant fans enthusiastically supported the home team.

The origin of this improvement can be traced to the fall sports. GAA Volleyball dominated their opponents continually and captured their second consecutive sectional. The Varsity Football team then achieved a 5-5 season and finished third in the conference. The footballers continually excited the spectators as they broke many school records. At the same time the Cross-country team attained their finest season ever.

Dormant school spirit awakened during the winter. The Basketball team enjoyed a winning season and then swept to the sectional championship. Kougars wrestlers finished second in the conference and had four wrestlers qualify for regional.

Following the winter season, athletics settled down somewhat as students looked forward to summer vacation. However, the Baseball, Track, and Golf teams performed admirably during the spring. The number of participants increased and each respective coach was optimistic about his team's chances for an outstanding season.

Best Cross-Country Season Ever

Bill Tillema got the team off to a strong start by placing 1st in six meets before suffering an ankle injury. Sophomore Don Duttlinger proved an asset to the team, coming on strong towards the end of the season, capturing ten straight 1st place titles. The Kougars team showed their stamina and strength by winning 6 of their meets, a 100% improvement over last year's record.

According to Coach Tom Risinger, the major accomplishment was the personal satisfaction and pride gained through the knowledge of self-improvement. Working together and having fun kept the Kougars team going strong. Practice included the usual workouts plus running from 5 to 10 miles over the Kougars road course every night. The meets themselves varied according to the individual course, each being a 2 1/2 mile stretch over rough ground.

Of the 13 members of the cross-country team, five received their major letters. They were Dan Lewis, Bill Tillema, Larry Coffey, Don Duttlinger, and Ken Foster. Receiving minor awards were Ralph Sipkema, Mark Lagaveen, Bob Cheever, Rusty Pierce, Dave Hamstra, Paul Bailey, Dan Myers, and Gary Jones. Named Most Valuable Runner, Dan Lewis, was the most consistent throughout his cross-country years. He was also a great influence on his teammates and got more people interested in cross-country. Most Improved Runner was Larry Coffey because of his marked improvement, cutting two minutes off his previous running time.

Big Red Machine Rolls On

The major accomplishment of the '74 season, according to Coach Steve Maple, was that the Kougars finally began playing team ball. Each player has shown great effort throughout the year. Outstanding seniors were the three captains Laine Cheever, John Spurgeon, and Rusty Beedle. Also among the top-ranked players were Randy Popplewell, Randy Parker, and Bob Nuss. Quarterback Laine Cheever threw for 32 completions for a total of 590 yards. Half-back John Spurgeon led the team in rushing with 732 yards and also led the scoring with 62 points. Lineman Rusty Beedle headed the punting squad with 30 attempts for 982 yards. Beedle also had the season's most tackles with 80 solos and 61 assists for a total of 141 tackles, breaking last year's record of 133 tackles. Randy Popplewell caught 16 passes for 352 yards. Randy Parker led the "clobber" squad with 17 tackles behind the line of scrimmage and Bob Nuss recovered 6 fumbles gaining 38 yards. Capturing all-conference honors for K.V. were offensive end Randy Popplewell, interior lineman Randy Parker, and for offensive guard and defensive linebacker Rusty Beedle. Honorable mention honors went to center Bill Nemeth and specialist Dwayne Gibson.

Losing the season starter to the South Newton Rebels, 14-10, failed to stop the Kougars who bounced back to beat rivals Rensselaer in a hard-fought battle, winning 22-21 in the home game opener. Though the Kougars were ready for the Knox game, the Redskins came out on top with a score of 14-6, causing the Kougars to suffer their first conference loss.

The Kougars then proceeded to rip off three consecutive wins over North Newton, Winamac, and, in a homecoming thriller, the Kougars came from behind to beat the Indians of Twins Lakes, 12-6.

After a delayed start at East Gary's homecoming, due to a mix-up in uniforms, the Kougars failed to rally to the Eagles offensive attack and lost, 21-12. Hopes of a conference championship were crushed when the Kougars suffered a heart-breaking loss to the North Judson Bluejays, 18-8. In the last away game of the season, the Kougars fell before top-ranked Whiting, 21-0.

Rounding out the season, the Kougars finished with a decisive victory over West Central. Before the Trojans even had their hands on the ball, the Kougars had 16 points on the scoreboard. Playing one of their best games, the Kougars trounced the Trojans, 39-20.

Sectional Champs Repeat

Playing before a crowd of over 350, the K.V. Volleyball Sectional got underway when West Central knocked off North White in two games. South Newton then proceeded to beat Tri-County in a hard-fought match, winning 15-13 and 15-10. The final game of the evening gave Spiker fans a chance to see their team easily defeat Rensselaer in two games, 15-7 and 15-6.

The last night of Sectional play showed K.V. walk all over West Central, making them one of the teams in the championship game. North Newton won their place as K.V.'s opponent in the final game by beating South Newton with the scores of 15-2 and 15-0.

The final match of the night proved to all that the K.V. Spikers were indeed worthy of the title "champions" with an easy victory over North Newton, 15-6 and 15-4.

For the 2nd consecutive year, K.V. advanced to the Valpo Regionals ready to win but failed to do so, losing to Lowell in a 3-game match with the scores 7-15, 15-10, and 4-15.

Experience Is a Pacesetter for Spikers

Experience and a love for the game set the pace for this year's team. Leading the Spikers to a victorious season were seniors Margaret Stimple, Julie Barker, and Sandy Fase. A strong back-up team of Joyce Bierma, Cindy Schoon, and Jackie Kingma did much to keep enthusiasm generating throughout the players.

Named Most Valuable Player, Margaret Stimple improved the most of all the players. The service award went to Sandy Fase for her outstanding efforts in scoring with 245 points earned while serving for the Spikers.

The Spikers managed to knock off eleven of their thirteen opponents for 19 wins and 6 losses.

Another Winning Season

The Grapplers produced, not only a winning record (6-4) for the 2nd consecutive year but ended up with 5 conference champs. Capturing this title were Mark Cook, Rusty Beedle, Randy Luedtke, Jim Barrera, and Pat Kearney.

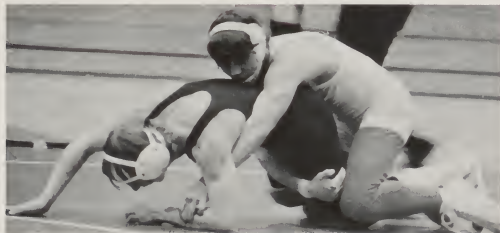

One of the highlights of the wrestling season, according to Coach Bob Nimtz, was beating Knox, 33-30. Hopes of beating rival Rensselaer were crushed when the Grapplers could not muster up the strength, losing 29-24.

A first for the team were girl managers, Cheryl Yurkovich and Brenda Owens, doing an excellent job from the coaches viewpoint. Their duties included attending practices, keeping equipment and uniforms in good condition, and marking the scorebooks at the meets.

Taking trophies for their outstanding efforts were Rusty Beedle, most pins and most takedowns, and Randy Luedtke for most reversals.

The Kougars Enjoy a Victorious Season

The basketball season got off to a slow start with a loss to Merrillville (65-95). The Kougars bounced back, ripping off four straight wins over North White (67-44), South Newton (65-55), Knox (48-46), and East Gary (72-65). Losing a conference game to Winamac (66-69), the Kougars went on to beat Rensselaer (78-62). Hopes of victory were destroyed when River Forest defeated the Kougars, (54-60).

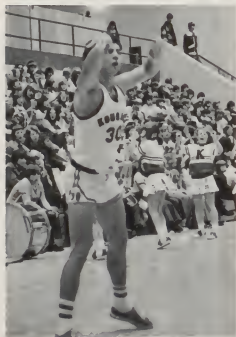

Kougar fans were treated to a thrilling Holiday Tourney over the Christmas break. In the first game North Judson trounced the Bombers (70-48). K.V. promptly beat East Gary (77-63) to put them in the championship game. The next night the Eagles beat Rensselaer in the consolation game (74-69). In the final game the Kougars lost the tourney title to North Judson (53-60).

The Kougars started off the new year on the wrong foot, losing to Whiting (57-72). Defeating North Newton (70-61), K.V. failed to beat top-ranked North Judson, suffering a staggering loss (45-70). Picking up three easy wins over Lowell (87-72), Honover Central (70-49), and Hebron (86-69), the Kougar season was looking up.

Following a crushing defeat at West Central (60-65), the Kougars came home. Fighting off staunch opponents, the Kougars defeated Frontier (74-72) and Tri-County (69-65). Ending the season with a loss to Twin Lakes (66-71), K.V. entered sectional play with a 13-7 record.

Slow Start for JV's

Before the Christmas break the Junior Varsity couldn't seem to get off the ground, winning only two of their first eight games. However, they seemed to come alive after the new year with their most outstanding wins over Whiting, North Judson, and Hebron.

Sportsmanship and ability were the basis for the J.V. awards. Most rebounds and best field goal percentage went to able Dave DeKock. The best foul percentage award was given to Dick Caldwell and Don Duttlinger was awarded with most assists.

The Kougars Take Sectional '75

Sectional 1975 opened February 27, pitting North Newton against Rensselaer in a close contest with the Bombers finally coming out on top, 60-53. Hanover Central then swept past Kouts with the score of 70-51.

The following evening Hebron defeated an improved Lowell team 70-60. "Revenge is sweet" proved true as a spirited Kougar team easily defeated dejected West Central, 64-58.

Semi-final action began as Rensselaer tackled Hanover Central in the Friday night opener. Though they led throughout most of the game, the Wildcats could not break down the Bombers who won 59-52.

An inspired team, the Kougars were determined to beat Hebron. The Kougars were in complete command throughout the contest, soundly beating the Hawks 79-65, crushing all their hopes of being in the final round of sectional play. Defeating the Hawks gave K.V. a place in the championship game against Rensselaer.

Playing before a sell-out crowd of 3887 fans, the final game got underway, Saturday, March 1. K.V. fans witnessed an unbeatable Kougar team trounce the Bombers 72-62. The Kougars, playing outstanding B-ball, came from behind in the 2nd period to stay ahead to the end, proving again that the Kougars are indeed "#1".

The Kougars then traveled to Lafayette in hopes of defeating Turkey Run but failed to do so, losing to the Warriors 75-92.

Young Team Improves

With a 5-8 overall season record, including one tourney, the Kougar girls did not have an exceptional season as a team but individually each girl showed a marked improvement. Highlights of the season were defeating Hebron (43-17) and Rensselaer (57-6) both the standard rivals.

Seniors Margaret Stimple, Sandy Fase, and Julie Barker paced the young team, each playing consistently good games. Sophomores Cindy Schoon, Jackie Kingma, and Jill Blaszczyk also contributed very much to the team's success.

This year the awards presented reflected the girl's overall performance and agility. The award for most rebounds went to center Margaret Stimple and the best foul percentage award was given to Julie Barker. Jackie Kingma took top honors as Most Valuable Player for the 74-75 basketball season. The most improved player award went to freshman Tara Nesius.

One of the high points of the '75 baseball season was a no-hitter against West Central by John Spurgeon. Pitching for 9 innings, John also hit in Bill Tillema who scored the winning run. Ralph Sipkema and Scott Terpstra showed their hitting ability by respectively smashing a grand slam and a homerun in the Kougar ball park. Other exceptional ball players were catcher Laine Cheever in his 3rd consecutive year and Bryon Anderson who led the team in batting with a .450 average.

Golf, though not a sport that receives much recognition, did have some outstanding golfers this year. Returning for his 3rd year, Jeff Pierson was the leading golfer, playing consistently good golf with low scores. Letterman Randy Parker also enjoyed an outstanding season, remaining constantly among the top golfers. Freshman Jim Tillger showed remarkable performance for his first year out.

KV Track Teams Stand Out

Though the boys track team suffered some crushing losses this season, each boy showed much individual improvement throughout the year. Especially outstanding were Randy Popplewell in the long jump, Bill Tillema in the 100 yd. dash, Mark Kingma in the shot put and discus, Don Duttlinger in the mile run, and Rusty Pierce in the low hurdles.

Sandy Fase was one of the most outstanding girls of the track team. Competing in various events, Sandy went on to compete in the sectional at Benton Central where she qualified for the regional. Continuing her standard of high performance, Sandy went on to break the school record in the long jump with a jump of 16'8 3/4" allowing her to enter State competition.

Limited Funds Govern Activities

Organizations, in this unusual year, limited their members, due to financial strain, to a smaller number of activities than they normally enjoyed. The main concern became raising sufficient funds to be able to go on trips.

Modern Foreign Language Club sponsored a foreign youth, making it possible for her to go to school. The FFA took their annual trip to St. Louis. The Pep Club and Bleacher Bums, the loudest organization, did their usual superb job of supporting Kougars teams. Student Council members supplied the students with many interesting convocations. The Math Club participated in a Math Day at St. Joseph College where they were lectured in math games.

The Sunshine Society put on its annual Autumn Ball and the Art Club sponsored a cake raffle. The proceeds of the raffle were contributed to a fund to buy a new piano for the Fine Arts Council.

The teachers who served in a supervisory capacity, such as Mr. Taylo shown here, contributed much to their organization and a thanks should go out to them for their time and effort.

Sunshiners Are KV's Busiest Organization

Sunshine Society was one of the busiest organizations this year. It had many fund-raising activities as well as projects to aid others. To raise money, they sold candles and also popcorn and candy at all of the football and basketball games.

The SSS collected donations for the combined funds of Mary Burden, Pam Arnette, and Eddie Poisel, raising about $400. They donated three wheelchairs to people in the area schools, $50 to the Wheatfield ambulance fund, and $100 to the Fine Arts Council for the new grand piano for the school.

The SSS Fall Ball was a huge success with over 100 couples attending.

GAA, Lettermen, and Pep Clubs Support Teams

The Lettermen's Club, headed by Mr. Hamacher, raised money for their club by selling raffle tickets for the basketball and football game balls at each varsity meet. $120 was raised by the game ball raffle and 180 tickets were sold for the bike drawing. Proceeds, though much smaller than planned, were to be used for sports uniforms and equipment.

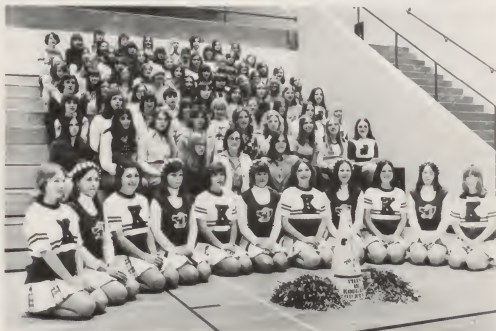

The Girls Athletic Association started off their athletic season with a fantastic volleyball team. For the second consecutive year, they hosted and won their own sectional. Their basketball team improved but did not achieve a 500 season. The GAA cinderwomen won a majority of their track meets. They also had one girl, Sandy Fase, compete in the regional and state contests.

From the start of the year, Pep Club members worked with the cheerleaders trying to fire up school spirit for our football team. During basketball season the Pep Club bought jerseys for their members. They had a cake raffle at one of the home buses fans took to the regional.

Journalism Club's newspapers improved with each edition. The last three editions were especially well received by the students. One of the three, the Senior Edition, was one of the favorite issues. The staff worked hard at collecting news, giving interviews, and they put together a fun and interesting paper.

The Distributive Education Club sold items to students through the Kougar Kave all year. Pens, pencils, and paper were the big sellers as desperate students bought last-minute items. DECA students went on a shopping expedition to South Lake Mall with the Vocational Interdisciplinary Cooperation Club, where they judged window displays.

VICA held a bake sale to raise money for their club. It was held at Hillside Shopping Center. The freshly-baked goodies went over quite well. VICA also went on a field trip to the computer processing center in Valparaiso and the Coca-Cola Corporation, which manufactures Minute-Maid tin cans. They held a raffle for the last football game and raised $139 which was donated to the Eddie Poisel Fund.

Field Trips Make Clubs More Appealing

The Drama Club presented two plays this year. The fall play, "I Never Saw Another Butterfly" was about the Jewish people during World War II. The spring play was actually two children's plays, "The Bad Children" which was about Hansel and Gretel and King Bumpygruff in the "King of the Ice Cream Mountain."

The Modern Foreign Language Club sponsored a girl from South America this year by sending money to provide for her education and clothing. They also used some of the money in the fund to go on a field trip to the French restaurant in Chicago, Champs Elysees.

The Art Club sold cake raffle tickets twice during varsity ballgames to raise money. They went on a field trip to Noblesville, Indiana, where they viewed rustic scenery in the quaint surroundings. The club also participated in the Art Festival held May 9 and 10 at the high school.

The Student Council sponsored 9 convocations. The two enjoyed the most by students were "The Chalk Talk" and the Gymnasts." They also enjoyed the presentation of Atomic Energy.

The musical department gave a boost to school spirit as well as community participation during the year as the concert band gave two concerts, the pep band played for pep sessions, basketball and football games. The pom-pom girls performed during football half-times.

The Madrigals teamed up for the first time this year with the jazz band to present a delightful program in May. Their "Mystical, Magical, Music Tour" was an enjoyable trip for the audience. It included singing, dancing, wild lighting, and a real bus on stage.

The organizations also has money raising activities. The pom-pom girls had a car wash and a bike-a-thon. The band sold fruit cakes this year.

Mixed Support Hampers Some Club Activities

One of National Honor Society's fund-raising projects was the selling of light bulbs this year. The project met with little success. The NHS fund-raising film showing also was poorly attended.

The club inducted 39 new members which was a record high. The induction ceremony, held March 31, was well attended by parents and relatives.

The Ecology, Science, and Chess Clubs had very few activities this year. The Ecology Club failed to get organized until Spring. The Science Club sponsored the annual fair again this year and drew a disappointing number of spectators. The Chess Club participated in only the regional tournament, placing 10 of 31 teams. Kurt Marquardt, Keith Peregrine, and Bob Borns were the men to beat this year.

The Math Club held its own math contests this year. The champions were Jim Griffin — 1st place, Brian Hohner — 2nd place, and Jim Bowers — 3rd place. They were presented with trophies on awards day.

Personalities Surface as Enrollment Increases

Many new faces appeared at KV throughout the academic year. Enrollment increased to the point that following the end of the 1st semester, when many seniors graduated, the total was still more than the number that started the year. With us, also, was an added number of student teachers from St Joseph's College from nearby Rensselaer. Due to the increased enrollment, and the new quarter system, grade levels were divided differently, and the freshman class was assigned to the junior high level.

On these two pages, we have put on display some of the many different personalities found in KV. At times the authority of Mr. Ryska and Mr. Crawford clashed with Ron Cimoch's craziness. Donna King wasn't always as hard-working as she appeared this day; and Tom Polomchak didn't always walk around in a funny uniform beating drums. But when students associated with these and the many other people in KVHS, it made for an enjoyable learning experience.

General Office

Administration Relocates Main Office

There was a change this year in the location of the office accommodations for the school board and superintendent. They moved to the newly constructed building on route 10 approximately one mile West of K.V.

This year the school board had to make decisions on such major issues as: quarter system, mid-term graduation, half-day release, DECA-VICA program, purchase of land for possible future site of a middle school, and allocations of money for next year's budget.

(above) A bright and cheery moment in our superintendent Scamihorn's day.

The jobs that Mr. Wayne Crawford performed each day did not change drastically this past year. He still took inventory of the textbooks in the fall, O.K. ed activities for clubs wanting use of school property, arranged the month's activity calendar along with Mr. Hamacher and Mr. Ryska, and did general school supervision. Due to the change in teaching methods and economics, there were many more paperbacks purchased this year rather than the hard-cover textbooks. In scheduling club meetings Mr. Crawford found difficulty because of the newly acquired half-day release program.

Mr. Wayne Ryska contributed to make the quarter system a success. It almost seemed he became a member of the guidance department as he helped place students into their correct classes. Both Mr. Crawford and Mr. Ryska felt that there was much more flexibility for the student with the quarter system, although locating a student was sometimes a problem.

KV Gets New Truant Officer

Mr. Dale Hamacher took on the job of truant officer this year. This position was extremely difficult but he did a commendable job. Mr. Hamacher, once again, served as sponsor to the Lettermen's club along with his administrative position as Athletic Director.

Students Enjoy Student-Teacher Relationship

The faculty at KV tried to maintain an informal student-teacher relationship this past school year, which may have been partly due to the new teaching style. The winning formula seemed to be that if the student acted like an adult, he would be treated as such. The teachers knew when to assert their discipline but seemed to combine it with the right amount of friendliness to produce a pleasant learning environment.

Teachers Make Quarter System Work

The faculty, more than anyone else, had to contend with the problem of instilling a new educational system and making it work. Their creativity was tested as they attempted to produce new courses and to make each class appealing, but also challenging to the student. Classes were opened to all grade levels which altered the structure of the classes and offered another difficulty for the faculty to overcome. Yet, with all of the drawbacks, the new system appeared a success.

Early Release Time

This year the senior students received early release time. K.V. was designed to handle 1050 students, yet by the 2nd semester the enrollment had risen to 1186. This was one of the major facts used to persuade the school board to permit the early release program. Twenty-seven seniors, who had fulfilled the graduation requirements, (34 credits, 2 majors, 2 minors, and 3 years of English,) found themselves jobs rather than continuing in school; thanks to this program.

Forty-eight seniors chose the option of the half-day program, taking either morning or afternoon classes. This type of program supplied advantages in many students' minds. It gave them a chance to earn spending money while they continued on with their schooling.

Due to the fact that the regular class time schedule (A) changed many times to our alternate schedules (B or C), the afternoon students often arrived a half hour early or a half hour late for their first class.

Senior Keys Arrive Late

Seniors were disappointed to find a delay in receiving their keys. When the keys finally arrived, it was two months beyond the due date. A bright spot in receiving the keys was the addition of an epoxy coating to the face of the key. This was done to reduce wear. Excited seniors compared keys with one another during an otherwise boring homeroom period.

Seniors Shine During Homecoming Week

Senior superiority shone as the three major honors of homecoming week went their way. Wood gatherers braved cold weather on both Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The seniors recieved their reward Thursday night at halftime of the powder puff game (which the seniors also won). The third major honor came Friday evening with the crowning of Joyce Bierma (also a senior) as homecoming queen.

Displays Leadership

Seniors held 32 of the 63 major club offices. This is a clear indication that leadership was prevalent among the '75 seniors. An outstanding example of this leadership was Kathy McClugage who, as president of the Pep Club, built up its membership to 120 and renewed the idea of club uniforms. Another example, Paul Duttlinger took over the presidency of the Student Council at mid term.

Seniors Become Teen-age

The KVHS school review radio show made its first appearance as a class this year. Five seniors took part in the show on WRIN radio in Rensselaer on Saturday afternoons. Bill Tillema was a veteran with one year's experience while the other four seniors, John Spurgeon, Cathy DeGraff, Joe Banks, and Luann Jonkman were rookies.

Interest in broadcasting and the excitement of doing a live show prompted the students to undertake this project.

Pretty Faces Represent 11th Grade in Contest

Juniors limited their activities somewhat as they prepared for the prom. Homecoming week saw them participate in the wood-gathering contest, and the Powder Puff game, and Jill Kruienza and Brenda Moolenaar represented the 11th grade on the Queen's Court. During the basketball season, Linda Bachman served as their candidate for Heart Fund Queen, and Donna Feleki was selected as the FFA Chapter Sweetheart.

Juniors Contribute Much Talent to KV Athletic Successes

The 11th grade was more than ably represented in the KV athletic program. Juniors participated in every phase of athletics and donated greatly to the successful sports year at KV. Three-sport standouts such as Scott Terpstra, Darren Williamson, Bob Nuss, and Greg Smith played major roles in their teams' achievements. In GAA, Debbie Shelton contributed much to the volleyball sectional champs.

Sophomores "Knockin' Around"

The Sophomores were relatively inactive as a class but did participate in their usual activities. Representing the 10th grade on the Homecoming Queen's Court were Robin Sherman and Peggy Sculley. Donna Hamstra, escorted by Rob Przybylski, won the Heart Fund Queen's crown by collecting approximately $650. Sophomores also made their presence known in sports. Rick Sytsma was a stalwart on the varsity basketball team.

The Business scene altered over the past year, caused by the poor economic situation. Advertising sales for this year's yearbook were down from previous years. Many businesses who normally purchased ads, failed to do so. Merchants who did buy ads, did so reluctantly because they had their doubts about the unstable economy. The PRIDE staff expressed sincere thanks to those who purchased ads by sending out certificates of appreciation.

Many new businesses have moved into the KV school district. Along with the many new privately owned businesses came a well-known chain store. An unusual number of improvements were made by local merchants as they attempted to keep consumers in the area. Many local businessmen felt the changes were necessary as they were forced to compete with a new shopping mall in Lake County for the customer's dollar.

4 Guideposts for Happier Living From First Federal

BE CONSIDERATE

Develop a sincere interest in people, their lives and their problems. Be understanding, and never build personal success at the expense of others.

CONTINUE TO LEARN

Stay mentally active, intellectually curious, receptive to new ideas. Education is a wondrous process continuing throughout life.

HELP THOSE IN NEED

You will find few experiences so rewarding in life as the times you give a helping hand to folks in need.

CULTIVATE THRIFT

Save regularly from the start. Thrift gives you an important extra margin for progress ... for security ... for success.

Cardinal still ill

CHICAGO (AP) — John Cardinal Cody, 77, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, is expected to stay in a Chicago hospital three or four more weeks after suffering a mild heart attack, officials say. The Rev. James P. Roache, a spokesman for the archdiocese, said the cardinal entered the hospital Saturday.

Eclipse Saturday

NEW YORK (AP) — The moon will take on a glowing, coppery hue Saturday night and Sunday morning as a total lunar eclipse provides a celestial spectacle for the Memorial Day weekend. Visible all over the United States and Canada, the eclipse should be the best of the 1970s, an astronomer said. It will begin at 9:59 p.m. (Gary time) Saturday night. The total phase begins at 12:03 a.m. (Gary time) and ends at 1:33 a.m.

Wild chase ends

SEATTLE (AP) — A man described as a fruit picker is being held here after he was wounded during a wild chase in a stolen Greyhound bus following a shooting 260 miles away that left a boy dead and three persons wounded. Nine-year-old Robert Andrew Burkin was killed in College Place, Wash. His mother, Mary Burkin, 45, was listed in critical and "very guarded" condition Wednesday night. Two more of her children were wounded. The man identified himself as Joseph Eads, 39. A bus ticket listed his home as a hotel in Phoenix, Ariz.

Religious ban denied

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Superior Court judge has refused to prohibit an adoption agency, Family Ministries of Whittier, from placing Indochina orphans with parents who are required to be evangelical Protestants. However, the legal attack on the agency's religious INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — General Telephone Co. has been granted a $29 million rate hike, but its proposed directory assistance charge and 20-cent pay telephone calls have been rejected.

The 32.2 per cent increase in rates was granted Wednesday by the Indiana Public Service Commission.

It will mean about a one-third increase in an average residential customer's bill and will take effect as soon as General Telephone files its rate and tariffs with the PSC.

In Northwest Indiana, General Telephone serves most of Porter County and parts of eastern Lake County, including Hobart and East Gary.

Meanwhile, hearings on a proposed $44.5 million rate hike for Indiana Bell Telephone Co. were to begin today. Indiana Bell is scheduled to take over the service in Northwest Indiana, including most of Lake County, now provided by Illinois Bell.

The commission voted 2-1 to deny General's request for directory assistance calls. PSC Chairman Larry J. Wallace voted yes.

The vote was 3-0 against doubling the 10-cent toll on coin-operated telephones, although the PSC acknowledged the increase probably was warranted.

In denying the directory assistance charges for the state's second-largest telephone company, the PSC said, "On the basis of the record and (service versus cost) we find the evidence inconclusive — the quality and concept of service in providing free directory assistance must now prevail."

Wallace said in a separate opinion, "A directory assistance charge should have no great impact on the vast majority of users of General Telephone Co.'s service, and permitting the company to charge those persons responsible for directory assistance costs . . . could have had the effect of reduc-

U.S. working to sooth uneasy European allies

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The Ford administration is industriously trying to calm the jitters that have surfaced among America's European allies.

Western Europe is looking at some unpleasant possibilities that hadn't seemed quite real until the debate of American policy in Vietnam.

mony, once widely pooh-poohed, isn't now so easily laughed off. Europeans seem now to have a nagging worry that the Indochina bruises to the American ego might produce a new isolationism that would militate against ever again in sticking out the American neck in anybody's defense.

What if, after Indochina,

Western Europe and the United States? Might the Soviet navy now become a strong and permanent presence in the Atlantic?

Greece and Turkey still quarrel with each other and the United States over Cyprus, but they seem a bit worried lately about what they might do to NATO's southeast anchor.

In denying the increased y telephone charges, the mission said, "From the ndpoint of cost (in) pro-ding pay telephone ser-e, the proposed increase is robably warranted. Howev-
; there are other means of educing costs produced by issue and vandalism, and ese methods are certainly ore desirable than the im-osition of the rate increase

PSC Commissioner Wil-am B. Powers said Indiana ell Telephone Co.'s similar quests for directory assistance fees and higher pay telephone charges also will

State won't get all of water funds

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) —
The Indiana Board of Health official says Indiana will receive only about 80 per cent of the federal funds it needs to expand the fight against water pollution.

Samuel L. Moore, director of the board's water pollution control division, testified Wednesday at a public meeting on the state's plan for water pollution control

"Changes"

During the past year, there were many events that caused change throughout the world that were more difficult to cope with than a change in curriculum. To the left is a common newspaper front page. It presents news, most of it bad, that caused its reader to differ his lifestyle in some small way.

The economy continued its downward spiral until the government passed legislation attempting to end the recession or at least slow it down. Interest rates on loans were decreased attempting to stimulate the purchases of homes and automobiles. "Rebate" became a popular word. The government began it all as the President proclaimed that rebates would be given on citizens' taxes. This was done hoping that the American public would then put the money back in circulation by spending it. Auto manufacturers then advertised rebates on the purchase of new models hoping to increase below average car sales.

When the U.S. evacuated South Vietnam, many Vietnamese refugees were brought to the United States.
Though most of the refugees were orphans, the sheltering of these people created new difficulties with which to cope. The Cambodians threatened us with war and even captured a U.S. merchant vessel.
Turmoil was still apparent in the Middle East continuing the energy question.

'75' Pride Staff

Being a part of the Kougar Pride staff was a new experience for all its members. None of the individuals on the staff had ever before encountered such a task. Although two of the staff members attended a year-book workshop at Culver Military Academy, they, as well as the others, had only vague impressions of the responsibilities they had accepted. The new grade level set-up caused a financial strain. By putting Freshmen in the Jr. High, the 9th graders were no longer included in the book. This caused sales to decrease and the production cost to increase. The staff members overcame their inexperience and many other hindrances to capture events they thought relevant to the reader's memories.

Thanks!

We would like to thank all responsible for the production of this yearbook. The person most responsible for this production is Mr. Koenig, our advisor. He exercised much guidance and patience with this inexperienced staff.

Our staff photographers, pictured on this page, for the first time in PRIDE history, were responsible for taking and processing almost all of the informal pictures in this book. They worked into the night many times as deadlines approached.

American Yearbook's representative, Pat Lindemann (Aunt Pat), was a tremendous help with design ideas and copy suggestions. Her regular visits and contagious vitality were appreciated.

Type style in this book is Optima (10 point body copy and 8 point caption copy). Headlines are 24 point Optima. A modular layout design was followed throughout the book.
